THE LEGISLATURE RAPIDLY PINISHING ITS WORK.

(harter Revision Bill Will Be Passed Over the Mayor's Veto on Monday-The Bill Taxing State and National Banks Will Also Be Passed-Bridge Terminal Bill Passed.

ALBANY, April 20 .- Both houses of the Legislature to-day adjourned until 2 o'clock londay afternoon, when the New York City Charter Revision will be passed over Mayor Van Wyck's veto. It is expected that Senator Ellsworth's bill, providing for the appointment of forty standing referees to serve n the courts of New York county, will pass the Assembly then, as the Committee on Rules has acted favorably upon it. Senator Krum's bill, imposing an annual tax of 1 per cent, upon State and national banks, will also be passed on Monday by the Assembly. A morum was present in each house to-day and the third-reading calendar was cleared of all bills to which there was no objection. It has been decided by the Republican eaders that the Armstrong-Lewis bill, submitting to a vote of the people the question as to whether or not the State shall issue $5,000,000 in bonds to pay its share of the expense of constructing good roads throughout the State shall not be pressed this year The annual supply bill contains an appropriation of $220,000 for good roads, and it is not believed this amount will be increased. In view of the fact that the Canal and Good Roads bills are dead, it is expected that the Legislature will pass the proposed Constiutional amendments introduced by Senator McCarren and Assemblyman H. E. Lewis, which already have been passed by a preintional amendments introduced by Senator McCarren and Assemblyman H. E. Lewis, which already have been passed by a preceding Legislature, so that they can be submitted to a vote of the people at next fall's election. The McCarren amendment provides for two additional Supreme Court Juscices in the Brooklyn Department, and the Lewis proposition prohibits the Legislature passing special bills exempting any property from taxation. These amendments have been held in abeyance pending the disposition of the Canal and Good Roads measures, as a bonding proposition cannot be voted upon at an election where a proposed Constitutional amendment is submitted.

The Senate passed these bills:
Senator McCarren's, increasing the Manhattan terminal facilities of the New York and Brooklyn Bridge
Senator Ambler's conveying to the federal government the state's interest in the southern portion of Esopus Island in the Hudson River opposite Dutchess county.

Assemblyman H. Wilson's confirming the acts of the New York City Elections Bureau between February 21, and March '3, last, and providing for employees' salaries.

Assembly man snyder's appropriating $200,000 for the purchase of additional lands in the Catskills.

Senator Green's, incorporating Chas C. Hughes, Edwardd D. W. Langley, Jas P. Howe, G. A. Farnham, Edward W. Davison and Frank C. Hamilton as directors of the International Realty Bond and Trust Company of New York city, with a capital of $1,000,000 and privilege to inreease to $25,000,000 to pay the claim of Wynkoop, lial-enbeck, Crawford Printing Company for legislative printing in 1899.

Assemblyman Sullivan's, extending the firm within which the whole of the capital stock of the Patent and Copyright Protection to the Patent Trust Company of New York and L. Baylies and M. Standish as incorporation to the Patent Trust sergeants of police.
Senator Slater's, authorizing insurance against disablement from sickness.

CODIFICATION OF STATE LAWS.

legislative Committee Will Advise That Revision Commission's Bills Be Rejected.

ALBANY, April 20.-The Legislature last year adopted a concurrent resolution providing for the appointment of a joint special committee to consider the bills prepared by the Statutory Revision Commission, codifying the laws of the State. The committee consisted of Assemblymen Rodenbeck, Fallows, Rogers, Green and Phillips, and Senators Brackett, Malby and Grady. The committee was to report at this session of the Legislature and Mr. Rodenbeck, who was chairman of the joint committee, has been ready to submit a report since the first week in February, but has not done so because th senate members of the committee refused to senate members of the control that they were sign it. The Senators say that they were and that the not consulted at all in the work and that the only notification given them of meetings was when it was absolutely impossible to attend. It was also asserted that (hirman Rodenbeck enanged students of the Rochester I niversity to do the clerical work of the com-

During the past week Mr. Rodenbeck has been trying to persuade Senators Brackett and Malby to withdraw their objections to the report, and permit it to be submitted to the Legislature. He expects to succeed, and have the report will contain a recommendation that all bills prepared by the Statutory Revision Commission, and which were introduced in the Legislature last year, be rejected. The committee found that the committee will also recommend that the committee will also recommend that the committee be continued or a new commute the work it was entrusted to do.

The committee will also recommend that the committee be continued for a new commute expointed to continue the work in commendation with a committee from the State Bar Association of codifying and revising the various codes and in this way prevent the amendment of the codes by pieceneal, which the lawyers have criticised so severely in the past. The committee is to serve without compensation, but is to have an appropriation for clerical assistance and will sit during the summer, reporting next year.

The Assembly also appointed a special committee early in the session, of which Mr.
Rodenback is chairman, to consider the bills was to secure an order almost the company to interpose an amended answer was made to the complaint setting up the statute of limitations. The original answer was made to the complaint in June, 1800. In an affidavit made by Herbert Limberger, associate counsel for the water company, he Rodenback is chairman, to consider the bills. The Assembly also appointed a special committee early in the session, of which Mr. Rodenback is chairman, to consider the bilis prepared by the Statutary Revision Commission, seven in number, and which were not introduced. This committee will advise that these bills be rejected.

The second motion was to secure an order the second motion was to secure an order granting leave to the company to serve a granting leave to the company to serve a supplemental answer, upon the ground that the Legislature, by an act parsed at the Byram I., Winters Named as Manager of Rome Custodial Asylum.

THE ESSENCE OF ALL BOOKS

This New Chambers's Encyclopædia-Edinburgh and American edition-stands preemmently at the head of all educational works ever printed in the English language. lateness, in authority, in modern arrangement and in point of manufacture none other can compare.

It is truly the knowledge of the world collected together. The essence of all books crystallized, it stands in your bookcase ready to answer briefly every conceivable question; to furnish precisely the information wanted on every possible subject; to make of every question arising in the family circle an instructive lesson; to convert your guesses into positive knowledge; to give you, in brief, the results of other men's years of toilsome investigation, placing everything in a little space, and no skill being necessary to find out what you may want to know. It is more truly one of "the necessaries of life" than most things that are called by that name.

THE WORK BRIEFLY DESCRIBED.

The New Chambers's Encyclopædia is bound in two massive volumes each measuring 101 by 71 inches, and the ten volumes fill a two-foot shelf. The set weighs sixty pounds. There are more than one hundred new colored maps (separate ones for each state and each country), 4,000 beautiful engravings and many full-page half tones printed on coated paper, 5,000 biographies of distinguished men and women, and the ten volumes contain nearly 10,000 pages of up-todate useful information upon every subject within the scope of the Payment human mind. Every line is printed from good size New Type, made for this edition, and the printing is absolutely perfect. The Paper is the very best ever used in an encyclopædia. It is pure white and will not yellow with age.
